Map of Worcestershire by Saxton, 1577. B899:31BA3672

ARCHI'VE REVEALED

"Christopher Saxton was commissioned in the early 1570s to survey the whole of England and Wales. His map of Worcestershire is the first recognised map of our County. His complete atlas of 1579 is of major importance and is the basis for the majority of County Maps for the next two centuries."
